

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

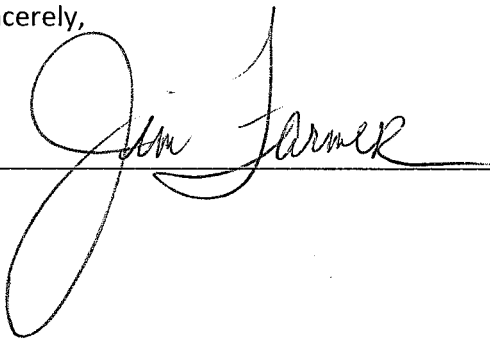

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

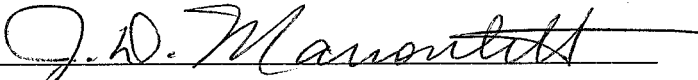

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

PO Box 244
Mont Belvieu, TX 77580

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

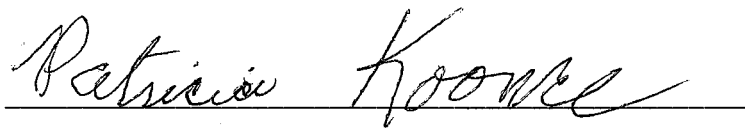

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Patricia Koonce", is written over a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

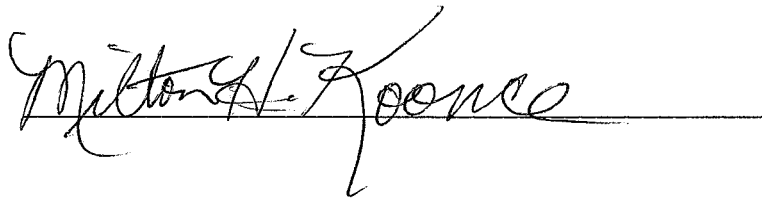

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Milton L. Koonce", is written over a horizontal line. The signature is fluid and somewhat stylized, with the first name "Milton" and last name "Koonce" being the most prominent parts.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Jesse Hultin", is written over a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

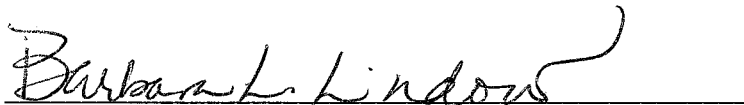

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Lloyd Gigant", is written above a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

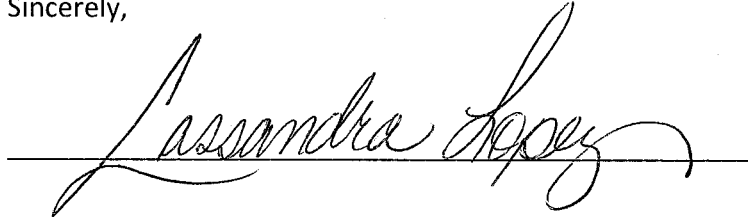

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Lassandra Lopez". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above a horizontal line that spans the width of the signature.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Mr. Paul Tomoney", is written over a horizontal line. The signature is cursive and includes a large, stylized flourish at the end.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Coody A. Joines

Coody A. Joines

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

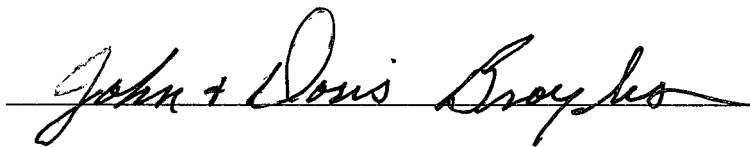

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "John + Davis Brayles". The signature is written in a cursive style and is positioned above a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

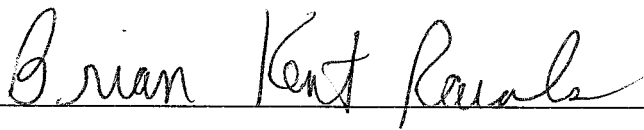

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Brian Kent Rouse". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above a horizontal line that spans the width of the signature.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

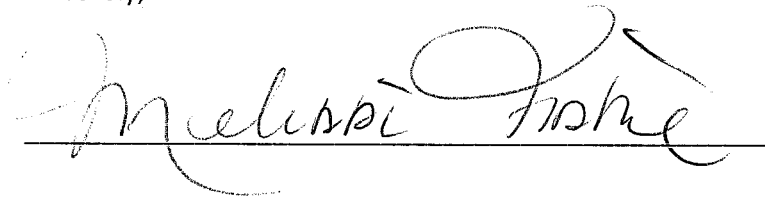

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Melissa Fisher

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

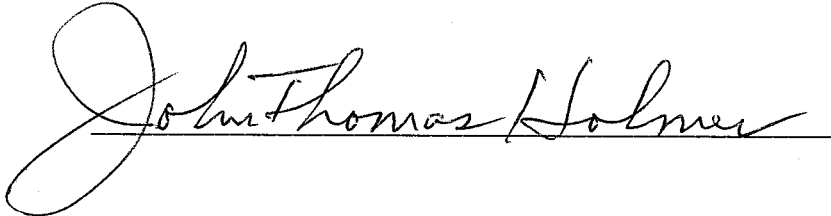

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

John Thomas Holmer

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

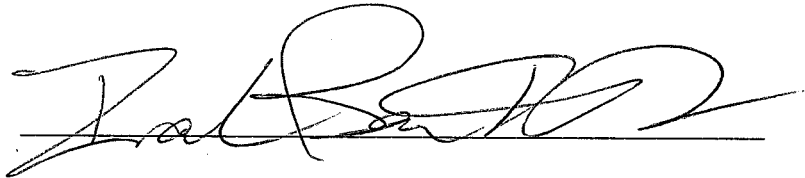

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be "J. R. ...", written over a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Robert G. Kaudrey", is written over a horizontal line. The signature is fluid and somewhat stylized, with the first letters of each word being capitalized and prominent.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

↗

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Al & Diann BARBER Sr.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "J. T. Carroll". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above a horizontal line that spans the width of the signature.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

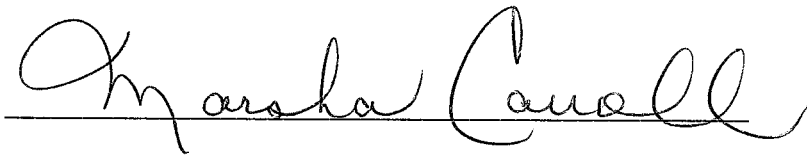

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Myrsha Canell

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Ginger Alexander". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above a solid horizontal line that spans the width of the signature.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

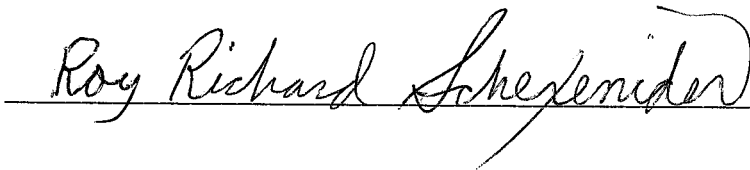

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Roy Richard Scheexemer". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script, reading "Laura Schepers", is written over a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Tanya Kirkwood

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Melinda Berry & Brittany Hewitt

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Mr. & Mrs. J. Lawson

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Frank A. Berry Jr.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

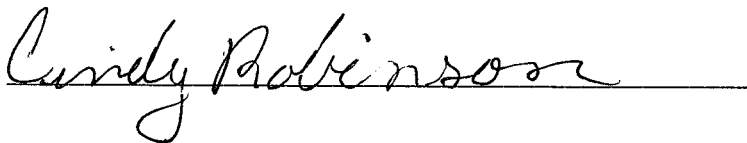

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Cindy Robinson". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above a solid horizontal line that extends to the right.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

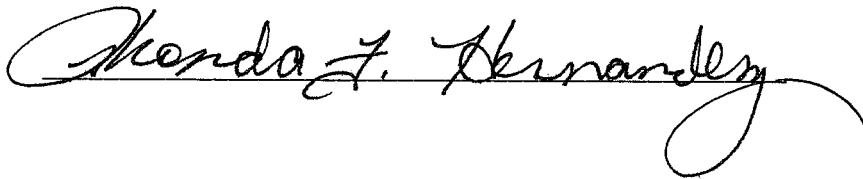

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Monda F. Hernandez". The signature is written in a cursive style with a long, sweeping underline that extends to the right.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

JODIE McADAMS
BAYTOWN, TEXAS

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

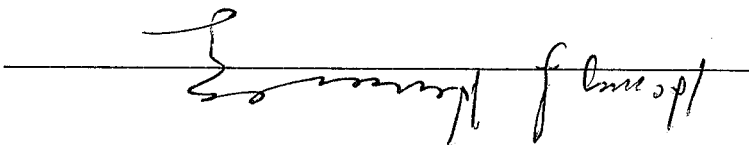

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, reading "Jimmy Kimmsey", written over a horizontal line.

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Mark Legman

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

Wednesday, March 25, 2009

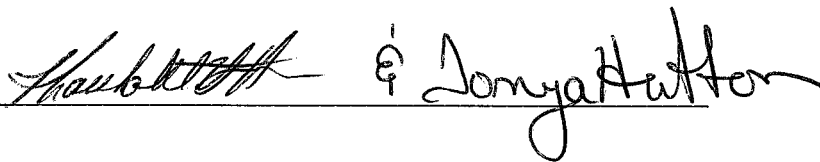

To the State of Texas Legislation,

It has come to my attention that an issue which resides very close to my heart is being presented to you and I would like the opportunity to share with you my thoughts.

I feel that it is discriminatory not to allow students that attend private Christian schools, or are home schooled, to participate in State UIL Competitions. There are many states in the US that currently allow for their participation and I do not know of a reason Texas should be any different. We are required to pay school taxes even if our students don't attend public schools and therefore our students should be afforded the same privileges as those that do. We would love to see the Texas State Legislation, you, approve this issue to allow the students of private Christian and home schools to participate in State UIL competitions.

Again, thank you for your time and I look forward to your decision in favor of the participation of these students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Haubert & Longatt", is written over a horizontal line. The signature is cursive and somewhat stylized.